

Activity Idea

Historic Filipinotown Mural

Recommended for Ages 12 – 18

Photo credit: Kenny Chang, Flickr CC

In Los Angeles' Historic Filipinotown, on Beverly Boulevard, between South Union Avenue and Union Place is a small lot known as Unidad Park is home to one of the Filipino American community's most significant landmarks. There stands the nation's largest Filipino American mural, colorfully packed with people and moments central to the community's history. Created by contemporary artist Eliseo Art Silva, the mural "Gintong Kasaysayan, Gintong Pamana" (Filipino Americans: A Glorious History, a Golden Legacy), summarizes 5,000 years of Filipino and Filipino American history. Among important individuals showcased on the mural are labor leader Larry Itliong, who initiated the Delano Grape Strike in 1965, and Ben Cayetano, who became the first Filipino American to be elected governor when he was voted into the position in Hawaii in 1994.

More Info:

Video tour of Historic Filipinotown including the mural in Unidad Park <https://bit.ly/2SeZ4K2>

About artist Eliseo Art Silva <https://bit.ly/2KGOAXB>

Visit Google's Street Art Project to learn about murals around the world and the significance they hold to their communities. <https://bit.ly/3bRdOga>

Spark an Idea!

If you were going to create a mural in your neighborhood, what would it depict? How would you want to represent your community?

Create your own street mural with this Street art game from the Tate Museum.

<https://bit.ly/2W9fkh0>