What is an Anagram?

An anagram is when you take a word or phrase and rearrange it using each letter once to make a new word or phrase. For example, the book The Hobbit could be made into “Both Bet Hi”.

Use the clues below to rearrange the anagram word into the correct book title.

For our example above, a clue might say “a short hairy-footed thief with a gold ring goes off to see a dragon about a treasure” and you are given the phrase “Both Bet Hi”. When you rearrange the letters, you get The Hobbit. Try it with the phrases below! All answers are one-word book titles.
