

LA County Library Announces New Hours, Return to 100% Capacity, and In-Person Programs

New Library Schedule will be effective on March 14, 2022

LA County Library is excited to announce that it is expanding its hours of operation across several of its libraries. New and standardized hours of operation will go into effect across its 85 libraries beginning March 14, 2022.

In addition to its new operating hours, LA County Library increased its in-person capacity to 100% earlier this month, while still following the County's mandates regarding physical distancing. Customers and staff are expected to maintain 6-feet of physical distance when in line and when inside the library. The Library has also resumed in-person events and programs across its libraries. The library's updated hours can be viewed at LACountyLibrary.org/new-library-hours.

"Our new schedule and return to 100% capacity and in-person events enables the Library to continue to support our communities with vital services." said Skye Patrick, LA County Library Director. "We hope our customers will take advantage of the resources and programs we have to offer, whether they do so in-person or virtually. We are excited to see you back in person."

Los Angeles County residents are encouraged to visit LACountyLibrary.org for details regarding service hours, services, and scheduled events and programs.
